

Plastpro Manufactures Maintenance-Free Vinyl Wainscoting

LIVINGSTON, NJ – January 17, 2008 – Plastpro Inc., a leading supplier of fiberglass doors and home products in the United States, recently introduced its first full line of reversible, pre-finished vinyl wainscoting products. The new line of Plastpro Planking (wainscoting) is made entirely from high-strength PVC (polyvinyl composition) and comes with a top trim/chair rail, base rail, and corner joints.

“The product was designed to enhance walls with the look and feel of wood but with the strength and long-term durability of PVC,” said Plastpro president Franco An. “Unlike traditional wood, Plastpro’s pre-finished vinyl wainscoting is easily washed; does not warp, corrode or rot, and is 100 percent moisture resistant. Just as importantly, we’re including everything necessary to ensure complete and easy installation.”

Besides being ideal for heavily trafficked areas, Plastpro’s pre-finished vinyl wainscoting is also stylish. Featuring separate design profiles on each side – wide or narrow – the reversible wainscoting comes in a variety of styles cut between 36 and 96 inches in length. Additionally, while the planking is pre-finished in white and does not require painting, it could be painted in a different color or patterned to match a room’s décor.

“It looks fabulous,” says Shirley Wang, CEO of Plastpro. “It’s perfect for kitchens, basements and bathrooms, and from a maintenance standpoint, great for families with kids.” Ms. Wang noted that Plastpro’s wainscoting is also affordable, and can save homeowners maintenance costs because of its strength and durability. “Whether you’re a do-it-yourselfer or a professional contractor, this wainscoting is a cost effective solution that combines flair and functionality.”
